Fleet and Church Crookham Conservatives

The Conservative Policy Forum (CPF) is a fantastic new initiative from your local Conservative Party to give all Conservatives the ability to influence the next Conservative Party manifesto by discussing policy from a range of areas with senior Conservative MPs.

Our next meeting is being attended by the Minister for Government Policy in the Cabinet Office, The Rt Hon Oliver Letwin MP, and the discussion will focus on how it will be possible to develop distinctive Conservative policies in the run up to the next General Election whilst maintaining working relationships in Government.

There will be extensive opportunity for questions and debate, influencing the policies to be considered for the next manifesto.

Following the formal session, there will be drinks, light refreshments and the opportunity to continue the discussion.

Attendance of the CPF is free and the invitation is extended to all Conservative-minded people in Fleet, Church Crookham, and the wider area.
